

ACTA ICHTHYOLOGICA ET PISCATORIA welcomes papers reporting original experimental data or experimental methods, or new analyses of already existing data, in any aspect of ichthyology and fisheries. We encourage specialists in all areas of ichthyology and fisheries, even apparently distant ones such as fish diseases and parasitology, aquaculture nutrition, or seafood science (etc.) to submit their manuscripts.

Manuscripts. Papers written in English, clearly and concisely, should be typed in double spacing, on one side of the paper, with a margin of 4 cm on the left hand side. Original and two copies should be submitted (plus a diskette or a CD).

The text. The manuscript should be arranged according to the following pattern: title (please use capital letters only when needed), names of authors (with first names spelled out, middle names as initial, and last name CAPITALIZED), affiliations of all authors, up to 8 key words, detailed mailing address of the corresponding author with the phone and fax numbers, and e-mail address, running title, abstract, Introduction, Materials and methods, Results, Discussion, Conclusions (only if needed), Acknowledgements, References, tables, figure captions (including full legend describing the figure and explaining all the symbols used). An excess of headings and subheadings should be avoided. Generic and specific names should be underlined or set in italics. Names of the higher taxa should not be underlined nor italicised. Any issue not covered by the present instruction should be resolved based on "The scientific style and format". The CBE Manual for Authors, Editors, and Publishers. Sixth Edition 1994, Cambridge University Press. All fish names must be consistent with the FishBase

An Abstract should be divided into small chapters: Background (why the study was initiated and what is the aim of the present paper?), Material and Methods, Results, principal Conclusion (with a closing remark—What is the importance of the present findings?). While writing the abstract please keep in mind that it may be also reprinted separately by abstracting/indexing journals or data bases. Tables must be self-explanatory, typed on separate sheets, numbered consecutively and carry an appropriate title. Tables should contain synthesized (not primary) data and not exceed A4 size. Figures. Only well reproducible figures are requested: a) photographs black-and white and clear; b) drawings on card or parchment papers in Indian ink; c) high-quality computer-generated line diagrams, or glossy prints. Excessive illustrative material should be avoided. Colour figures will be printed on author's expense.

References in the text should be quoted by the authors name and date (in parentheses). When the author's name is cited in parentheses please do not separate the name and year with comma. If there are more than two authors, only first one should be named, followed by "et al." The reference list at the end of paper should follow the examples shown below:

Ghosh K., Sen S.K., Ray A.K., 2002. Growth and survival of rohu, Labeo rohita (Hamilton) spawn, fed diets supplemented with fish intestinal microflora. Acta Ichthyologica et Piscatoria 32 (1): 83–92.

Please note that, full journal titles should be listed. All references in the list should be indicated at some point in the text and vice versa. References should be limited to a minimum. Unpublished data or private communications should be avoided. The titles of papers published in non-congress languages should accompany by their English translation [in brackets] and their original language should be stated (in brackets). Slavic names, paper titles, and journal titles, originally written in Cyrillic alphabet should be transliterated (not transcribed) following the ISO-86 system (Commonly used the Library of Congress System is in fact a national transcription system and as such cannot be accepted). Abbreviations and symbols. Quantities should be expressed in SI units. All abbreviations should be spelled out when first used in the text.

Off prints. Authors receive 25 off prints free of charge. Additional copies may be ordered at cost price.
